The Vice President
The White House
Washington, D. C. 20500

Dear Mr. Vice President:

As President of the Senate, I am sure you would be interested in a new effort CIA is making with respect to the Congress. It is the attached Intelligence Checklist for Congress. This publication is specifically designed to serve the Congress and to focus on those matters which I believe to be of particular interest to the Congress. It is published on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week and is made available to the Members of the Senate Armed Services, Appropriations and Foreign Relations Committees through the senior staff member (It is also provided to the House Armed Services, Appropriations and International Relations Committees). It is delivered each morning, held in the personal control of a senior Committee staff officer and picked up each afternoon. The object is to make it as convenient as possible for the Senators and Representatives to have direct access to these matters. I would be pleased to provide a copy to you if you should so desire, and I would certainly be appreciative of any comments you might have on it.

Respectfully,

W. E. Colby
